To Whom It May Concern,

It is with a great pleasure that I write this recommendation letter for Eric Arias. Mr. Arias embodies many marvelous characteristics and abilities that allow him to thrive as an outstanding student in Coachella Valley High School. Eric is an active independent learner, an intelligent thinker, and most of all; he is a persistent hard worker. I believe his characteristics will lead him to have a successful future, especially within the fields of Economics and Mathematics.

Eric the Active Independent Learner: One of the most valuable characteristics of Eric is his active independent learner spirit. He is a go-getter! He does not wait passively for others to educate him. He is resourceful and always tries to find a solution to accomplish the subject that he is learning. He often creates his own math problems to challenge himself on various issues.

Eric the Intelligent Thinker: Arias is a natural intelligent person. Anyone who encounters him will quickly realize he is an intelligent thinker. He does not allow such natural talent to go to waste. He harnesses this opportunity to challenge himself for a higher academic level. He graduated from our high school as the Valedictorian with a district-weighted GPA of 4.6250. I believe his outstanding cognitive level will be a great benefit for him to advance in both his university and career.

Eric the Perseverant Hard Worker: What worth are all the talents in the world if one does not have the perseverance to work hard to achieve a greater goal? Mr. Arias is a clear example of someone who has the perseverance to achieve anything he truly desires to achieve. In his senior year, due to family and financial issues, he was homeless for three weeks. He had to stay at a friend's house just to get to school, and had to rely on teachers to provide transportations to and from school. Out of all these adversities, he never waivers on his goal of graduating as a top student from our high school.

In conclusion, I highly recommend Mr. Eric Arias for any scholarship, job opportunity, and community involvement based on his character of being an active independent learner, intelligent thinker, and most of all, a persistent hard worker. Eric has a potential to have a very bright future. He is a leader in the making. He needs a supportive and nurturing environment to unleash his full potential. Your respective community, workplace, or institution will be a great place for him to thrive in. Thank you for your time and consideration!

Sincerely,

Joshua Chao
